The tone of the press throughout the country indicates a general belief in the early revival of business. As a basis for this renewed confidence are the large crops which are maturing throughout the country. The decrease in the surplus reserve and the increase in loans for the past week in New York indicate a better demand for mercantile purposes. In Chicago and New York there is a large buying movement in staple goods, based upon the advice that the demand from the country towns will be larger than last year. In Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and other large trade centers, the constantly augmenting business activity, as compared with the same period last year, shows an increasing confidence in the trade outlook.

Everybody is hoping for and expecting better times, and we see no reason to doubt that the country will float once more, and that very soon, on the tide of prosperity.

The red flag in America seems likely to meet the fate of the bloody shirt. The workingmen in Chicago will have none of it, and have both proclaimed and proved their preference of reason to ruffianism by denouncing the violent methods of the Socialists as "out of place in a free Republic, where the franchise is an inalienable right of every citizen," and where the ballot is more potent than the bullet. Now, says the Charleston News and Courier, let the workingmen of Ohio bury the bloody shirt as deeply as their comrades have buried the red flag of Communism in Illinois, and the country will see the beginning of an era of peace and prosperity of which the workingmen everywhere will reap the first and most lasting benefits.

The Atlanta Constitution has recently published some sensible editorials on the question of a railroad commission. Georgia has given the commission a fair trial and it is the belief of those who have given the subject the most attention, that it has done Georgia no good. The Constitution does not favor the abolition of the commission altogether, but wants its powers curtailed. Georgia has had some of the best men in the state on her commission.

The New York Sun is advising Cleveland to disregard the Civil Service reform law. As the Sun did all in its power to urge the people to disregard Mr. Cleveland last year, and in favor of that savory old political hack B. F. B., at that, the Sun may not be a very good judge of a good thing every time.

The New Hampshire Legislature having passed at its last session a "valued polity" bill, the leading insurance companies are withdrawing from the State. All the Hartford companies are out of it.

Gen. Sherman refused to head a committee to solicit subscriptions for the Grant monument fund in St. Louis. Grant, we think, said some time ago, that Sherman was the greatest General of the war—himself excepted, of course.

President Cleveland ironically and forcibly says: "I was not elected to my present position to help make Governors for Ohio." Right again.

In Philadelphia an eleven-year-old boy observed Sunday by committing suicide, his mind having become affected by reading a trashy novel of the dime literature variety. When will parents learn that it is their duty to exercise a proper surveillance over what their children read, as much so as to care for what they eat, drink and wear? The admission of the wretched stuff that passes for novels cannot be too rigidly interdicted in any household where the young folks are not altogether given over to their own devices.

SCHOOL HOURS AND ABSURDITIES.

The Wilmington Star gives the following very important comments on the above subject:

The Chadron Times has a sensible editorial on the length of school hours, and the very unreasonable expectations of patrons. People who have never studied and whose occupations are not much of a tax on the intellect, have very erroneous notions often, as to how many hours teacher and pupil should be confined. After some experience as pupil and teacher, and after an observation extending through several decades, we are satisfied that no girls ought to be confined more than five hours a day, and should do precious little study out of school. As to boys, they are generally so inclined to idle and shirk duty that they might be confined six or six and a half hours. When William J. Englemann, father of the present head of the school, taught at Oaks, Orange county, in 1845, he did not confine himself to the school house but five hours and fifty minutes, and he did not punish himself by staying in with the boys. He had learned by a long experience.

The wisest teacher of girls we have ever known, was the late Mr. Samuel L. Venable. He spent a long and valuable life in instructing girls. He held that "children were sent to school too early—that they should not be started over before seven, and it was better to wait until eight years had passed. We have seen children put to school at five and six, and we have seen others begin at eight, and by the time they had all got to ten or eleven, the latter class had gone ahead of the first starters.

The President at His Desk.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—President Cleveland was at his desk before nine o'clock this morning, and after an hour's work, began to receive callers. There were comparatively few callers during the day and most of them called to pay their respects.

The formal cabinet sessions will be resumed Thursday, but there is not likely to be a fully attended meeting before October 1st, as Secretary Endicott is not expected to return to Washington before that date. Secretaries Whitney and Garland are expected here early next week.

It is understood that no conclusion has been reached respecting the Austrian mission. It will be some time before the President gets to work on his message to congress, and very little is yet known about his recommendations.

Prominent civil service reformers say that no modification of the civil service law will be recommended. On the silver question it is believed the President will come out as emphatically as ever in favor of the suspension of silver coinage.

Officials Cannot Entertain Guests at Expense of Government.

Judge Maynard, Second Comptroller of the Treasury, has decided an interesting point in considering an item of $400 in the accounts of Paymaster Stevenson, U. S. N., for expenses incurred by Rear Admiral Joutet, of the U. S. S. Tennessee, in entertaining the following officials at the New Orleans Exposition: Director General Burke and party; Governor McEnery, of La., staff and friends; Governor Bourne, of R. I., staff and friends, the Mexican commissioner and party; Governor Cameron, of Virginia, staff and friends. The account was approved by Secretary Chandler. The Second comptroller says he can find no law for these expenditures, and that there is no statute or naval regulation which imposes on naval officers the duty of entertaining public officials at the expense of the Government.

Exactness in German Courts.

The following is a specimen of the almost painful exactitude of German police courts. A large hand had recently been condemned for theft to a money fine of 5 marks 40 pennings or five days' imprisonment. He paid 5 marks down, but was no sooner at liberty than he left for parts unknown without squaring the account. In consequence the court issued a decree enjoining upon the police authorities throughout the land, in case of coming across the forgetful fugitive, to exact the payment of the remaining 40 pennings, or inflict upon him an incarceration of eight hours and fifty three minutes.—Paris-American.

The corporation of Kansas City covers 8460 acres.

More Than a Million.

New Orleans, La.—A reporter of the Times-Democrat, who recently completed a tour of this and neighboring States, visiting every city, town and hamlet, states that he interviewed all the wholesale and retail druggists and storekeepers, as well as transportation companies, with a view to learning the volume of trade in certain articles. The statistics thus gathered show that during the past two years over one million two hundred thousand bottles of St. Jacobs Oil were sold in this section, and that this quantity largely exceeds the total combined sales of all other similar remedies during that period. He adds that dealers, as well as the public, continue to increase in their praise of the wonderful pain-curing powers of this unapproached remedial agent.

"Bixby's" Buttons, "Brown's" and "Bon Ton" are the best brands of shoes popularly known to the trade, and are sold by W. T. Weaver, at the One Price Shoe Store.

A few harum scarum school boys in an obscure village in Iowa fired up a sort of a paddy, which they called "Gon. Gon. Gon." and hung it to a post. Had it occurred in some Southern State it would have been put into the Ohio campaign as an "issue."

Secretaries Bayard and Lamar have been hard at work all summer, and neither is suffering for want of vocation. They do not exhibit any of the lassitude which is said to characterize Southern men. Perhaps the opinion that Southern men are lazier than Northern men is erroneous.

The Rev. Dr. Armstrong occupied his pulpit in St. Philip's Church, in Atlanta, Sunday, and administered the communion service. The vestry of that church has exonerated him from the grave charges published in the papers last week.

Rome, Georgia, has a model police force. Not a man of them uses intoxicating liquors, and all but one are church members.

It is believed that the President, in his message to Congress will take strong ground in favor of the suspension of silver coinage.

There are 200,000 canary birds in New York city.

A law goes into effect in Ohio this month which requires all wages to be paid weekly in cash.

From the Old Dominion.

I have been a sufferer for many years from Catarrh and Blood Taint. After the application of all the known remedies for such diseases, I found myself last summer on the very verge of the grave. Nothing seemed to do me any good. As a last resort I commenced taking S. S. S. I had finished the second bottle I felt a decided improvement, and am to-day enjoying most excellent health—better than for many years. I take great pleasure, therefore, in recommending Swift's Specific for such diseases.

Richmond, Va., June 20, 1885.

Swamp Malaria Conquered.

I have been using Swift's Specific in my family for the past two years as an antidote for malaria also as a blood purifier, with the most satisfactory results. I live on the banks of the Ouchit river, in what is called the swamp country. Myself and family enjoy as good or even better health than the average people who live in the hill country. I am confident that S. S. S. has banished the malarial poison from our systems, and consequently given us good health. I use it at intervals during the spring and summer, when the system indicates being charged with poison, and invariably drives it out.
